Headteachers Message

The children have been experiencing what an election is like this week. Today they have got to vote for the Head girl and Head boy. We've even got our own voting booth. Well done to all those who have gone for these positions. They are all winners for standing up in front of the whole school to deliver their speeches.

The children will also been learning much more about this during Parliament Week later this term.

I hope you all have a lovely weekend.
